

THEY SAY FAREWELL

HYPATIA BID THEIR LATE PRESIDENT GOODBYE.

At the home of Mrs. Hersey at 1745 North Market Street the Hypatia Members met to bid their beloved Ex-President, Mrs. Spangler, farewell and wish her happiness in her new home.

On the lawn a banquet is given, toasts offered and responses made. Other social happenings.

The hospitable home of Mrs. Hersey was thronged on the ladies of Hypatia last Thursday afternoon. The meeting was a farewell picnic to Mrs. Spangler who will sever her relations with the club when she departs for her new home in Oakland, Cal.

The meeting was a most delightful one, though sad because it was a farewell to Mrs. Spangler, who has been a member of the club for six years.

The spacious lawn was dotted here and there with groups of ladies who were discussing the future of the club when Mrs. Spangler announced that she had brought her bow and arrow and would confer the archership on the best archer. This proved a most delightful pastime.

At 5 o'clock the ladies were called to supper which was spread on tables under the shade of the trees. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and were filled with all the delicacies of the season.

Mrs. Spangler sat at the head of the table at her right sat Mrs. Hersey, the president, at her left, Mrs. Sturdevant, the vice president.

The meeting closed with several toasts Mrs. Bennett acting as toast master. Mrs. Lora Price responded to the toast, "Our Hostess."

The subject of the toast to which Mrs. Spangler responded, Mrs. M. Collins spoke of her "Charter Members."

"The General Federation of Women's Clubs" was the toast to which Mrs. Sadie Toler responded. Remarks were made by Mrs. Sankey, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. J. L. Dyer, Mrs. Purley, Mrs. Hendricks, Mrs. Spangler, and others.

ELEVATOR COMMITTEE MEET MUCH ENCOURAGEMENT.

Their Meeting at the City Building was Attended by the Most Enterprising Farmers of the County and When They Were Assured of the Care Taken by the Commercial Club to Protect Every Interest They Lost No Time in Giving Their Indorsement to the Project That Means Much to the County.

The elevator meeting yesterday saw a success from every standpoint. It was attended by a class of farmers who when they join hands with any movement carry it to success.

C. G. Cohn, T. G. Fitch, F. D. Stevens and others among the speakers and laid the matter plainly before the people. The only question that the farmers asked was that the proposition was a genuine one, that there was not a catch about the business, and when they were assured by every banker in the city, by every business man and by the individual members of the Commercial club that they had thoroughly examined the proposition made by Mr. Caldwell, and had become thoroughly convinced that the men were financially able to carry out their part of the contract, and had bound the company with a strong, gilt-edged bond to not only build the elevator but to construct a grain elevator and a better rate of freight than the present rates prevailing in the elevator market.

The event of the coming week will be the lawn fête given by the Welles Circle of King's Daughters next Friday evening at the home of Miss Aquilla Hestinger on North Lawrence avenue. This circle has an established reputation for giving highly successful and delightful entertainments and the fête for next Friday promises to be very pleasing in every detail. The lawn will be lighted with Chinese lanterns in abundance and ice cream and cake will be served from tables daintily arranged for the occasion. A special feature of the evening will be the fortune teller's tent in charge of Mrs. Harrison from which all who enter will emerge with a fixed and certain knowledge of their future life. Excellent string music has been secured and will be heard through the entire evening. The reception committee will consist of Misses Aquilla Hestinger, Myrtle Sluss, Abbie Potts, Gertrude Jackson and Mrs. A. R. Price. Those in attendance at the tables will be Misses Elvira Walker, Besse Reed, Helen Taylor, Mable Barwise, Grace McAdams, Jessie Kendall, Emma Potts, Rea Woodman, Jennie McClure, Margaret Brown, Eva Dewey, Jessie Cole, Daisy Bruner, Helen Plummer. HE DIDN'T GET WHAT THE A. P. A. WANTED AT ST. LOUIS.

Now He Says That McKinley Will Lose a Million Votes or so Because He Didn't Heed the Demands of That Organization—He Thinks the Whole Business was Dominated by Catholics—The Nomination of Keene for Committee-man was a Little Rough on the Order—A New Party Likely to be Formed.

St. Louis, June 20.—The Republic has the following on the attitude of the A. P. A. toward McKinley:

"Mr. Mark Hanna is held responsible by the American Protective Association for the election of Mr. R. C. Keene of this city as a member of the Republican National committee. The Republican party is now threatened with defeat in this state as a result of Mr. Hanna's choice.

Furthermore, Mr. Hanna and the McKinley managers are blamed for the turning down the order given when its duly elected committee endeavored to secure recognition in the platform. The result is the determination of the A. P. A. to organize an American party, to put up a national ticket, and state tickets in every state where the order is strong enough to hope to accomplish anything at the polls.

Colonel H. E. Sellers of Michigan, president of the National Council of Patriotic Associations of the United States, is authority for this assertion. He is backed by Congressman W. S. Linton of Michigan, who is the prospective candidate of the A. P. A. for the presidency. Colonel Sellers came here as chairman of the executive committee appointed by the Patriotic Association at their conference in Washington last December, to go to the national conventions of the political parties and lay before them the platform of principles of the order.

His mission was to present the principles which the society wanted incorporated in the Republican platform to the resolutions committee, and use every honorable means to have the committee include them in the platform reported to the convention. The declaration of principles was sent to ex-Governor Foraker of Ohio, chairman, when the committee held its first meeting. But it was completely ignored, and as a result Colonel Sellers says the Republicans will lose a million votes, and will not be able to carry several states they are now counting in the Republican column. He declares the party will lose 100,000 votes in Missouri alone, and that it will lose Illinois as a result of Mr. Hanna's stupidity or his intentional insult to the order.

THE REJECTED PLANKS. The resolutions which Colonel Sellers presented to Mr. Foraker read as follows:

To the Hon. Joseph B. Foraker, chairman of the committee on resolutions: The following is respectfully submitted by the chairman of the committee on resolutions of the American Protective Association of the United States, requesting that the same be incorporated in the national platform of the Republican party:

1. The integrity in the use of funds of the federal and imperial character of the American free public school system must be preserved free and untrammelled from all ecclesiastical or sectarian influences, and all private educational and other institutions must be subject to civil inspection.

2. Absolute separation of church and state must be secured, and the intimidation of power of ecclesiasticalism over both citizens and lawmakers, and all appropriations of money for the support of ecclesiastical or private institutions must be destroyed by constitutional prohibition or legal enactment, both by the nation and states.

3. The supreme law of the land, expressed in the will of the people, and should be, that the government of the United States is, and of right ought to be, free and independent of all ecclesiastical or religious connection, interference or control; that the state dominating religion and using religion for state purposes is the pagan idea of government, and in effect, a despotism, which is subversive of a Republican form of government and contrary to the better and spirit of the constitution of the United States.

4. Stringent immigration laws must be enacted to preserve the character of our citizenship, giving dignity to honest toil and averting the perils of an uneducated and ignorant population, and transfer to our shores of the dregs of foreign population, representing the lowest forms of illiteracy, beggary, superstition and crime, thus imposing new taxes on our laboring classes and serving unscrupulous politicians of the most unworthy purpose.

5. A national constitutional requirement that no state grant the right of suffrage to any person not a citizen of the United States.

6. We declare in favor of restricting the ownership of lands to actual settlers and to the citizens of the United States or those who intend to become citizens, and that Congress shall henceforth prohibit by law further alien grants from any portion of the public domain or from further encouragement or legalizing any system of alien land within the confines of the United States.

7. We declare in favor of a law being passed by the several legislatures of all the states of the Union, and to be strictly enforced by the states, against any form of conscription or compulsory labor, thus protecting honest toil and encouraging honest and legitimate industry.

8. We declare in favor of a national system of education, at the head of which shall be a national university, located at our national capital, and which shall be opened by a system of competitive examinations to every citizen graduating from our public schools and the state universities of the United States.

9. We believe that the public school system of the United States is the bulwark of the American Republic, and with a view to its security and permanence, we recommend an amendment to the constitution of the United States forbidding the application of any

The election of Keene, a pronounced Catholic, and a political adviser of Sig-toli, as a member of the national Republican committee was a direct insult, and designed as such, to all our patriotic societies.

Colonel Sellers was asked if the A. P. A. would put up a ticket in Missouri. He said that that would be left entirely with the states organization, but he thought that there would be an American ticket in nearly every state in the Union. He confirmed the story, published in the Republican, that Mark Hanna had received an ultimatum from the A. P. A. of this state, and that he had refused to sign Keene in defiance of the wishes of the order to keep Keene out of the national committee.

WHO REPRESENTED MCKINLEY. "Mr. McKinley told our committee, which we sent to wait upon him at Cape Girardeau, that he was an ex-state president, another is an ex-state president, and the third will be next governor of his state. I believe what they said about the result of the interview with McKinley. I know of my own personal knowledge that they were friendly to McKinley, and had no intention of representing him or putting him in a false light. We know that Mr. Keene was elected as a member of the national committee through the interference of Mark Hanna. Mr. McKinley's manager, and consider it as a direct slap in the face of the order. The Republican party will have to abide by the consequences. The responsibility rests upon Mr. Hanna's shoulders.

ALL WILL HAVE A CHANGE. "I am going from here to the Democratic convention in Chicago next month and I will present the same plank to the resolutions committee of that body. While there I will consult with the supreme president of the order, the largest patriotic associations in the country. I do not expect to receive any waste treatment at the hands of the Democratic convention that I received here.

"I will come here to the Republican and Silver party conventions, July 22, and present the plank. If the result is the same, I believe it is the duty of the American people to prepare for the secession of an American party, pure and simple, based upon the original idea of our fathers. A strictly American idea, unaffected, unalloyed; a party affected by no dogmas or creeds whatsoever, but which will be ready at all times to guarantee liberty of thought, and conscience to the humblest individual. A party which will have enough and patriotic enough to establish an American monetary system and insist upon its assembling a place among the states of the earth. The party will protect its laboring classes from the poisonous influx of a pauper and criminal immigration. In fine, a party that will encourage that form of government only which will make its people, each and all, politically, ethically and religiously free.

"The result can be summed up in a few words. In my judgment, political health across the Republican party in the face, and its glow was plainly seen by more than one of the prominent gentlemen who were delegates to the convention. But what else can be expected? Every tradition of a patriotic character, based upon
